

City-Wide Transit Tieup in Detroit; Industry Affected

Sudden Strike Keeps Many Workers From Their Jobs Today

Detroit, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Street car and bus operators of Detroit's municipal transportation system struck suddenly this morning, leaving some 400,000 office and factory workers to seek emergency means of getting to work. Thousands were delayed in reaching their places of employment.

The strike brought from Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, youthful head of the city administration, a threat to "call upon the might of government" to end the tie-up.

"You can't run the city of Detroit," he warned leaders of the American Federation of Labor here at a conference.

A spokesman for the striking union, division 26 of the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operators of America (A. F. L.), said the walkout was intended to enforce the union's demand for recognition as sole bargaining agent for the operators.

"Can't Grant" Closed Shop
Mayor Jeffries retorted that this was in effect a demand for a closed shop, and that "we can't grant that."

A number of Detroit's huge automobile plants, many working on defense orders, operated with short shifts or started operations late because employees, awakening without knowledge that the strike had started were unable to reach their jobs at scheduled times.

The management of the Hudson Motor Car Co., closed its main and body plants, making 10,000 workers idle, but said they would reopen Thursday morning. A spokesman said not enough employees arrived to permit operations. Work at the Hudson naval ordnance plant in another section of the city proceeded, however.

The Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Company plant also was affected. Some of its assembly lines were still unable to operate at noon.

Other plants, including the Ford Motor Company's big Rouge plant where 87,000 are employed, operated despite some shortage of man power.

2,650 Conveyances Idle
One thousand street cars and 1,650 buses stood idle in terminals as a result of the 4 a. m. strike action, and the proud nickname of "The Motor City" took on a new significance.

Taxi drivers extended their cruising radius and reaped a rich harvest. Companies placed additional cabs in service as fast as drivers could be found to man them.

Neighbors begged rides from neighbors as citizens became aware of the overnight tieup.

And still there were hitchhikers on nearly every corner at 7 a. m., at start of the rush to work. Motorists generally proved obliging and there were few automobiles that were not carrying at least double their customary load.

Mayor "Dumbfounded"
The mayor said he was "dumbfounded" at the action of unionists who established a 4 a. m. strike deadline when they voted the walkout shortly after midnight.

Early Selections of Candidates for 'Queen' Arranged

Preliminary selection of the candidates to compete for the honor of being selected as Queen of the Rock River Valley on Louise Parsons day in Dixon, Sept. 15, will be made at the Dixon theater at 8:45 o'clock on the evening of Aug. 28, the committee of the Dixon Lions club, sponsors of the contest announced today. Rehearsals for the contest in the Dixon area will be held at the Dixon theater on the afternoon of the same date.

Eldon Myers, Hal Mateer, Don McMahon, N. E. Kaiserman, Leslie Hinkle and E. S. Wadsworth of the Lions club toured northern Illinois yesterday in the interest of the contest visiting several participating communities. This committee reported today that 30 to 35 candidates were in prospect for the signal honor and all expense tour to Hollywood.

All of the communities plan to enter original floats in the huge parade in which their candidates will ride. The selection of the candidates in the Mendota area is to be made at the Mendota fair on Aug. 30. The Morrison selection will be made Monday, Aug. 31 at the theater in that city and present indications are that the Prophetstown and Polo candidates will be selected at the respective theaters during the same week.

Wierd Story

Belcher Islands, Hudson Bay, Canada, Aug. 20.—(AP)—One of the weirdest stories to come out of the frozen north was unfolding today before a white man's court hearing—murder charges against seven Eskimos accused of putting nine others to death in a dispute over whether Christ had come to earth again.

Some of the nine died of gunshot wounds, some of beatings, and the rest—four of them children—were sent naked into the wind-whipped snow last winter to perish of cold.

Preliminary testimony was taken yesterday from some of the accused, their relatives and tribesmen.

They spoke through interpreters in a tent which served as the court house for the judicial party headed by Justice C. P. Plaxton of the Ontario Supreme court—a party which took 13 days for the long trip north.

Waterfront Death Toll Mounts When 4 More Are Found

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—A police launch took the bodies of four longshoremen, three of them negroes, from the Brooklyn waterfront at the foot of Congress street today, raising to nine the known dead in the Monday fire which destroyed a Brooklyn pier, the Cuba Mail Line freighter Panuco and numerous small craft.

Assistant District Attorney Edward A. Hefferman, in charge of the district attorney's inquiry into the origin of the devastating fire, announced that a workster's "smoking carelessness" was the cause and that except for a few routine matters the investigation was completed.

No Hint of Sabotage
"I find nothing in the way of sabotage," he said, adding that investigators thrust aside theories that sparks from a tugboat funnel or other craft had set the pier afire.

"Drowning" was given as the cause of both deaths, the men apparently having leaped from the burning pier to avoid the flames which moved with terrifying speed.

Discovery of the bodies revised the police recapitulation to: seven known dead, 15 missing, including four crewmen and 11 stevedores, and 31 still in Brooklyn hospitals out of at least 72 injured.

A special board of inquiry went into its second day session into the cause of the $1,500,000 blaze as police dissipated a possibility that sabotage might have been at the bottom of the tragedy and destruction.

Three bomb-like cylinders were discovered on the afterdeck of the ruined Panuco, which gave rise to the sabotage theory, but it was learned that more than 100 similar objects were in a compartment aboard the vessel.

Three Food Handlers Banned From State Fair

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The state health department disclosed today that three food handlers employed at the state fair last week had been banned from the fair grounds because they were carriers of amebic dysentery.

The three carriers employed by a traveling show were detected Aug. 12 and taken from the fair grounds after another employee became ill, the department said in a report to local health officers. No other cases of amebic dysentery were reported.

Burglar Does It

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—During every hot spell for the past six summers William Pokorny, 56, struggled vainly to open a small window of his home.

In the early morning hours today a burglar robbed the home of objects valued at $8. He came in through the obstinate window, and left the same way.

Easy Instalment Credit Available In U. S. for at Least Ten More Days

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The public, it was learned today, still has at least 10 days of easy instalment credit ahead of it.

The Federal Reserve Board, which is formulating restrictions on time payments, was reported authoritatively to favor a September 1 effective date and to be considering an industry plea for postponing it until September 15.

The nature of these restrictions is expected to be made public tomorrow, but they are also believed by responsible officials to follow closely tentative rules made public last week.

The tentative regulations provided a minimum one-third cash

Illinois' Attorney General Will Open Fair Here Friday

George F. Barrett To Be Guest of Honor on Opening Day

Illinois Attorney General George F. Barrett of Chicago will be a distinguished guest at the opening of the Lee County Fair and Horse Show at Assembly park Friday afternoon and will deliver the address officially opening this year's fine program of entertainment. Congressman Leo E. Allen of Galena, who has been invited to participate in the opening day's program, is also expected to be present on the opening day.

Patrons of the fair will be impressed with the new ground plan this year. The new big top of colorful red and white canvas will be the largest tent ever brought to the fair. In keeping with each year's increased gate attendance, it will be 225 feet long with a width of approximately 100 feet.

The main entrance to the fair divides the big commercial exhibit tent in halves, the midway extending through the concessions lane to the track. Incidentally, this is the only entrance to the main fair grounds, which greatly simplifies the traffic problem and the commercial exhibits are assured the attendance of every patron.

All Under Big Top
Most of the feature events of the big fair will be housed under the big top. The north end of the enclosure will include the floral exhibits and displays of the best grains Lee county has to offer, vegetables, canned goods, cookies, cakes and domestic arts. The south end of the tent is to be devoted to scintillating show of dealer and merchandise displays which will

Eight Found Dead In Plane Wreckage

Sao Paulo, Brazil, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Because they were asleep and relaxed in rear seats, two North Americans and a steward escaped death in a Panair Do Brasil plane crash that killed eight and seriously injured two others, investigators said today.

Prof. Philip C. Jessup of New York City, international law expert, touring South America to promote studies in that field; Hugh Davies, Harrisburg, Pa. businessman, and David Novak, the steward, made their way down from the mountainside, where the plane crashed, to a suburb of Sao Paulo yesterday. Jessup and Davies were the only North Americans aboard the plane.

The three suffered minor injuries and shock.

Rescue squads worked through the night to remove the bodies of the dead in the plane and to care for the two injured, identified as Julio Wittis and Savio Cruz Secco. Cruz Secco was found unconscious, his arms around his dead wife.

The three suffered minor injuries and shock.

Aged Pedestrian on Highway Meets Death

George Reese, aged 81, well known resident of Prophetstown was almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock while walking along state highway, route 78, near the bridge which spans Rock river north of Prophetstown. The aged pedestrian did not observe a car driven by Arthur Munson, 28, of Morrison, which was traveling north on the highway, and as the driver turned out to pass the pedestrian, he was reported to have stepped directly in its pathway and was struck.

He was rushed to the Sterling hospital, but died before being admitted, having suffered a severe skull fracture and serious chest injuries. Sergeant Edward Mahan of the state police of this city went to the scene of the accident to conduct an investigation. The body was taken to Prophetstown and Coroner Frye of Rock Falls ordered an inquest to be held Monday.

Infantile Paralysis Incidence Mounting

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The rapidly mounting number of infantile paralysis cases in Illinois stood at 104 for this year today after eight more cases were reported to the state department of public health yesterday.

Six of the cases occurred in Cook county, five of them in Chicago, indicating, with the previous day's report of five suburban Cook county instances, an increase in the disease's prevalence in Cook county.

One case each from Logan and McLean counties was reported yesterday.

Dr. Cross said the comparative total of infantile paralysis cases at this time last year was 41.

Banker Nichols of Englewood Carries Out Threat Today

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—John M. (100 per cent) Nichols has gone and done it.

After threatening for years to close his little bank, the First National of Englewood, he did it today. In a letter, headed "Statement of Condition at Close of Business Aug. 20, 1941," Nichols wrote:

"Confronted as we are today with the spectacle of a nation betrayed by its own public officers, a people divided as never before, not even in Civil war days, and on all sides a resorting to the first law of self-preservation, I do not care to continue as the custodian of other people's money. x x x

"We have therefore returned all but $39,000 of a one-time high deposit of over 7,000,000, and we urge the immediate withdrawal of the small balance to enable us to close our books on 52 years of successful banking, at least for the duration of the Roosevelt-concocted emergency."

"Trick to Get Out"
Nichols has repeatedly said that unless he could get his depositors' money invested safely he would close up shop. "Any one can get into the banking business," he commented today, "the trick is to get out."

Nichols' economic philosophy hasn't changed very much since he burst into national prominence in the early '30's with his one-man war against the new deal's banking policies, particularly the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

He was a Landon man in 1936 and a Wilkie man in 1940. In the last presidential campaign, when his bank's statement of condition was published in the newspapers, it bore this additional piece of information: "In a last stand for democracy, every director and officer

WPA Program in Lee County Is Reinstated

The Works Progress Administration program in Lee County has been reinstated and today about 50 men had been certified for re-employment on county projects. The WPA has ordered that one group be transported daily to the government proving grounds near Savanna where they are to be employed and the first of these men began work Monday.

At present the remaining certified men are being employed on the Lowell park road, but within a few days are to be transferred to other projects. Several of the men will be employed on improving a section of the Rock Island road in Nelson township, while the remainder will complete the county-wide culvert construction program. The county WPA headquarters has been reopened in the Dixon township building on Highland avenue south of Third street, where the workmen are being certified for re-employment on the projects.

"President Quotes Lincoln and Draws Parallel", He Says

Sees Long, Hard Road Ahead Before Axis Powers Surrender

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—President Roosevelt used words which Abraham Lincoln uttered at a dark moment in American history to emphasize to the nation today that he foresaw a long, hard road ahead before a final victory over the axis is won.

The chief executive spoke of the war continuing through 1943 if necessary, and made plain his belief that the people of the United States were not yet awake to the enormous proportions of the task confronting them.

Roosevelt chose to be indirect at his press conference yesterday in appraising the present and the immediate future, and for that reason he had the capital wondering how literally to accept the parallel which he drew between 1941 and Lincoln's day.

The Lincoln quotation which the president cited was in a passage from Carl Sandburg's monumental work, "Abraham Lincoln the War Years". It described an interview between Lincoln and a delegation of women, headed by a Mrs. Mary A. Livermore of Chicago.

The time was September, 1862. Only a few days before, the battle of Antietam had been fought. "The bloodiest single day of fighting of the war" in the opinion of Conference General Longstreet. Behind lay a series of almost unbroken Union reverses, stretching from the first Bull Run to McClellan's luckless peninsula campaign against Richmond.

Lincoln Quotation
Roosevelt read Sandburg's description of what Lincoln said to the women who were seeking encouragement. It ran thus:

"I have no word of encouragement to give" was the slow, blunt (Lincoln) reply. "The military situation is far from bright; and the country knows it as well as I do."

"The women were silent. They knew it was a heart-to-heart talk, that he was telling them what he could not well tell the country, that he was frankly relieving the burden of an overweighed mind. It was a silence of a moment, but 'deep and painful', says Mrs. Livermore.

"The president went on: 'The fact is the people have not yet made up their minds that we are at war with the south. They have not buckled down to the determination to fight this war through; for they have got the idea into their heads that we are going to get out of this fix somehow by strategy. That's the word - strategy. General McClellan thinks he is going to whip the rebels by strategy; and the army has got the same notion. They have no idea that the war is to be carried on and put through by hard, tough fighting; that it will hurt somebody; and no headway is going to be made while this delusion lasts.'"

When Roosevelt had finished, one reporter inquired how he thought the "lead" to the story should be written—the at-a-glance summary.

"President quotes Lincoln and draws parallel", Roosevelt replied, and gave newsmen permission to quote him directly for emphasis.

Roosevelt let it be known that he thought the parallel applied to world conditions. Asked if that included the United States, he responded that of course it did.

"There was much ensuing conversation."

Unscheduled

Camp Lee, Va., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Soldiers of Camp Lee engaged in an unscheduled maneuver with a 400-pound lion today.

The big cat escaped from her cage, raced through a crowd of soldiers, and finally was trapped in a coal bin after giving this army post an exciting few minutes.

The animal had been brought here from Mason City, Ill., by Dr. Manley K. Mathers to perform in a camp circus and was being transferred from her cage to an arena when she made the break.

The hundreds of men gathered around watching the unloading scattered quickly to the barracks and watch Lady lope through the quartermaster replacement center street before she spied the coal bin and dived in.

Dr. Mathers and his son, Corporal Merritt E. Mathers of Camp Lee, quickly pulled the cover over the bin and called on a squad of soldiers to hold it down until a cage was brought up.

Chicagoan Killed By Train During Night at Steward

The body of George Lisker, 44, of Chicago, was discovered lying along the C. B. & Q. tracks about 150 feet east of the depot at Steward last night, terribly mangled and scattered along the right of way. The crew of the west bound Blackhawk Limited passenger train saw the body and at Rochelle reported to Agent F. G. Woulff at Steward, who started an investigation.

Agent Woulff with A. G. Gunderson, section foreman, and H. Dalton, foreman of an extra gang working out of Steward, discovered the badly mangled body and notified Coroner Frank E. Nangle at Paw Paw, who ordered the body removed from the tracks where it was in danger of being hit by another train. Coroner Nangle went to Steward and had the body removed to the Torman-Hill mortuary at Paw Paw where an inquest will be conducted, probably late this afternoon, when officials of the Burlington from Aurora will be present.

Had Birthday Monday

Lisker celebrated his 44th birthday Monday, and was employed as a waiter for the John Greer Construction Company of Chicago, which has two 50 men extra gangs working east and west of Steward. The body was found near the camp cars of the crew located east of the depot. C. F. Keelin, cook in the camp, told Coroner Nangle last night that he had known Lisker for the past four years but had never heard him refer to his family or relatives. In his investigation Coroner Nangle learned that three trains had passed through Steward last evening between 8:30 and 11:30 o'clock and railroad officials were conducting an investigation in an effort to learn which train struck the man.

Dixon Fisherman Turns Life-Saver

Charles Heckman, who ranks as one of Dixon's outstanding fishermen, turned life-saver Sunday while fishing with his wife from a boat, when in Spring Lake near Savanna, Mrs. Heckman observed an overturned boat, which they had previously noticed, and three men struggling in the deep water. She called her husband, who proceeded to the scene. One of the men, who was inexperienced in the water was almost exhausted and he was pulled into the Heckman boat. The others attempted to climb into the Heckman boat which was in danger of being swamped, when Mr. Heckman ordered them to cling to their overturned craft, which he towed to the shore.

When the two fishermen who had been towed to shore climbed onto the bank, Mr. and Mrs. Heckman found that they had rescued a former Dixon resident, A. E. Ostrander, former labor leader of this city, who is now residing at Savanna. While the three fishermen lost all their equipment, none suffered ill effects.

"Dick" Ogleby's Carriages Again Travel Highways After 75 Years

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Richard J. Ogleby, who was governor of Illinois 75 years ago, commuted between his Elkhart home and the state house in a single-seated carriage, with a separate seat for the driver.

That carriage and two others from the old Ogleby homestead again are traveling the highways near Springfield. They are owned now by James Brunk, a salesman who maintains a stable of horses and a collection of antique rigs.

Motorists along Lake Springfield roads stop their cars to watch Brunk and his friends ride past.

Nazi Plane Over Iceland: Risks First U.S. Shot

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Telegraph Special Service)

Washington's determined step in arranging to ferry warplanes to the allies in the Mediterranean theater has given rise to speculation as to whether a British offensive against Italy might result from this much needed acquisition of aerial equipment.

It strikes me that the allies likely are more interested at the moment in safeguarding the Russo-Persian border in case the nazis break through the Ukraine into the Caucasus. We get support for this view in the word from London today that British and Russian troops have been moved to Persia's frontiers to enforce an ultimatum that several thousand alleged German fifth columnists be expelled from the country to prevent their cooperation with the advancing nazis armies.

However, it's natural that the question about Italy should arise. Such a drive has been expected by the world at large ever since Mussolini unfurled his war banners in what he thought to be gentle breeze but which proved to be a hurricane. Indeed, there's been a good deal of wonderment as to why the British haven't adopted more energetic measures, especially since Italy is terribly vulnerable and has seemed to many allied experts to be ready for the plucking.

From inquiry in usually well-posted British quarters I understand that the reason Britain has dealt lightly with Italy thus far probably has been more a matter of policy than lack of bombers. Actually it's said London believes Italians as a whole are so fed up with Hitlerism that they would break loose from it if they could.

Serves Uncle Sam

Scott Field, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—It doesn't take congressional action to keep Master Sgt. Eugene E. Hahn in the army.

Hahn, 54, one time lieutenant in the German army, started his 31st year in the service of Uncle Sam today, having re-enlisted for the 11th time. He advanced to the rank of captain during the World war but when his commission expired after the armistice Hahn re-enlisted as a private.

One fine carriage, the latest word in transportation in 1867, was first owned by the family of John D. Gillett, "Cattle King," and was acquired by the late John G. Ogleby, lieutenant governor and son of the old governor.

Another Brunk possession is a phaeton that was the private conveyance of Mrs. Richard Ogleby. Still at Elkhart, the family home near Elkhart, is an elaborate carriage with seats for driver and footmen. Countess Alessandro Cenci Bolognetti, sister of John G. Ogleby, refused to part with it.

Comedy Is This Week's Offering At Illini Hall

"She Couldn't Marry Three," a laugh-crowded comedy of three young men and the woman in their lives, has been chosen by Director Richard Vernon as the season's eighth production by the Grand Detour Players.

Sworn to stand by each other through thick and thin, Don and Sid, members of the fourth estate, and Grumpy, a vaudeville actor, make up a care-free trio. All is comparatively peaceful in the happy-go-lucky atmosphere of the threesome's New York apartment until Don befriends a young actress, Sally Chandler, who is between jobs.

Don invites Sally to be their housekeeper when he discovers she has been locked out of her room until she pays her rent. After agreeing among themselves to keep their friendship with Sally on a purely platonic basis, the young men adopt her as a member of their "gang" and present her as Don's sister to Mrs. Riley, their landlady, and Betsy, the unschooled little housemaid who is pathetically in love with Sid. Complications arise when Sid and Grumpy, both called in the army in the first World war, discover they are in love with Sally and propose to her. Her strange behavior in response to their proposals, and the happy reunion of the gang after the war provide three acts of wholesome and humorous entertainment.

The comedy will open a four-night run at Illini hall in Grand Detour tomorrow evening, and there will also be a matinee at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Military Orders Postpone Watson- Street Wedding

It probably will be a month or longer before Miss Alice Street, younger of Mrs. Lester Street's two daughters, can complete plans for her marriage to William Watson, newly-commissioned lieutenant at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Tex., as Lieutenant Watson told his fiancée by long distance telephone last night that he has been assigned to five weeks of additional specialized training at San Antonio, before reporting for duty in Jackson, Miss. on Oct. 4.

With all of their plans remaining more or less tentative, due to military orders, Miss Street and Mr. Watson are now planning a late-September wedding. But whether the ceremony that will make her the young lieutenant's bride will be solemnized in Dixon, San Antonio, or Jackson, Miss Street cannot say.

The bridegroom-to-be, who received his commission as lieutenant last Friday, is the younger son of the J. R. Watsons of Omaha, Neb., formerly of Chicago and Rockford. He has been stationed at Brooks field since early January.

Yesterday afternoon, a hostess trio composed of Mrs. Fred Lawton, Mrs. Aubrey Davis of Freeport and Miss Lucy Lawton were entertaining tea guests at Mrs. Lawton's home. Thirty friends of the bride-to-be were received between 4 and 6 o'clock.

Moving pictures in technicolor of the Fred Lawtons' wedding of Aug. 10 were shown. Before her recent marriage, Mrs. Lawton was Miss Helen Kennedy.

A Thought for Today
Set thine house in order—II Kings 20:1.

There is no man so good, who, were he to submit all his thoughts and actions to the laws, would not deserve hanging ten times.

—Montaigne.

Where the Blame Belongs

In a recent editorial, the New York Times placed the blame for any power shortage that may exist squarely where it belongs—on the government itself.

Said the Times: "In many ways—through tax policies, rate policies, federally-financed and subsidized competition, the policies of the securities and exchange commission—the administration has profoundly discouraged private investment in an expansion of the electric power facilities of public utilities. The 'death sentence' law applying to public utilities companies was drawn not in a judicial and constructive, but in a punitive and vindictive spirit. The inevitable effect was to undermine the confidence both of public utility managements and of investors and to lead to a drying up in the flow of capital into private utilities."

Figures tell the grim story. In the five years from 1921 to 1925, the private utilities spent an average of $659,000,000 a year for over-all construction purposes. In the seven years from 1926 to 1932, they spent an average of $711,000,000 a year. But in the years from 1933 to 1939 inclusive—which cover the period when they were subjected to the most vicious political and legislative attack—their expenditures dropped to an average of $308,000,000 a year.

The problem now is how to get more power in certain areas. And the only workable solution to that problem is full government cooperation with the private utility industry. The industry is ready to embark on a vast expansion program. It is ready to pool its output with that of the government hydro plants, to attain maximum efficiency in distribution. It is ready to do anything possible to make up whatever shortage may exist now or in the future.

But this great industry can not make its vital contribution to national defense if the political saboteurs are permitted to continue their dictatorial, Hitlerian policy of "divide, isolate and conquer."

It can not do its job if it is eternally faced with the possibility of ruthless socialization of its properties.

This is the hard truth, and no amount of political oratory can change or hide the truth.

Consider the flea. All it does is jump around—and it goes to the dogs.

Why is it that moths seldom make the mistake of eating a patch?

SECRET VOYAGE

BY JOSEPH L. CHADWICK

YESTERDAY: The stranger offers Jim Mallory $25,000 if he will tell him the location of the Sonora and break his contract with Jeffery Hammond. Jim asks if Eric Forbes is supplying the money; the stranger says he is not. Jim refuses the offer, the stranger threatens trouble and leaves. Jim tells Curly he is following the man, but Curly loses him in a Miami bar. The Aurora finally sails and Jim goes below in a rubber diving suit to look over the Sonora. He finds the bridge wrecked and charred as if by fire or explosion. Jim plans to go down the following day in a metal suit. He talks over the whole thing with Curly—Hammond and Forbes not wanting the Sonora salvaged, the crew being sent to China. Mary Larsen's curiosity, the careful talkers bring. He decides there's something on the Sonora.

EMPTY HOLD

CHAPTER IX

THE Aurora rode out a gale during the next three days. Jim made his second descent to the sunken ship when the sea calmed, and found that task had become more difficult.

Curly came down with him the following day. They began cutting huge holes in the hull. They wore metal suits, with lines fastened to the Aurora's winches by a boom. It was slow work, cutting through steel plates with torches, and they couldn't stay down long at a time. Finally Curly suggested they use dynamite to hasten the work. They planted the charge late that afternoon. They phoned the crew to haul them to the surface then, and when they got out of their grotesque metal suits Jim set off the charge.

The water boiled as the blast went off, and the Aurora's hull gave a shudder. Bits of wreckage floated up.

Curly observed, "Now all we need is a bottom to put the ore in." And, as though in answer, one of the crew shouted, "Ship to starboard!"

Jim saw a ship, crawling like an insect across the horizon. He went to the chartroom and got binoculars. His face clouded as he examined the craft through the glasses.

He said, "It's that Cuban schooner, Curly. The one we met a couple of months ago, before we found the Sonora."

"And that means trouble, eh?" Curly asked.

"It's probably my careful-voiced friend," Jim kept watching the schooner. It was Diesel-engined, and it traveled fast. "It's keeping to its course, and it'll pass us by miles."

"It'll be back tonight, Spike. It'll be back. I'd suggest that you

There Are Many to Protect

Why this sudden furor about inflation, anyway? Who cares? You care, for one.

You care if you are one of the 45,000,000 Americans who hold Social Security cards, or the wife or child of such a holder. You care if you are one of the nearly 40,000,000 Americans who are beneficiaries of ordinary life insurance, or of the 90,000,000 industrial policies, or the 25,000 group policies.

And that begins to get along to almost everybody.

The spectacular losses in a period of inflation come to those who have money. But on the other hand, such people usually manage to wangle through it somehow. It is the little fellow, the fellow on a small inelastic salary or wage, the fellow with the small savings account or insurance nest-egg who is swept down into the depths of unpectacular misery in a run-away inflation.

Many more people have a stake in preserving some kind of stability in the relationship between money and the prices of things than ever before. Forty-five millions of people now have Social Security accounts who did not have them a few years ago. Such of them as have made over $250 a month, for instance, for a period of 10 years will, when they reach 65 years of age, begin to receive $44 a month until they die. Such a man's widow, his unmarried children under 18, are also in line for benefits.

So every man and woman working under Social Security has a stake in preventing inflation, even though many of them are apparently not conscious of it. For if, by the time they reach age 65, that $44 a month won't buy cigarettes, the whole elaborate scheme for their protection and security collapses just when the power to earn is also gone.

That is why every effort must be made now to restrain the rising price-wage cycle. That is why the government is trying to sell Defense Bonds. In buying Defense Bonds, you lend your actual money to the government, which will pay it back after 10 years with interest. If the government does not get enough money that way, it will borrow it from banks, which simply create the credit where no money existed before, thus expanding the currency without adding correspondingly to production. That is inflation.

The prospect of inflation is not something that concerns only the rich. It concerns every man, woman and child in the United States, and the children, perhaps, most of all.

More Jobs Than Ever Before

Right at the time when everybody is worried about men being laid off in small plants producing non-defense items, comes word that more men are holding jobs today than ever before. Employment reached its highest peak in history in June, the National Industrial Conference Board estimating that 53,120,000 held jobs.

If that estimate is correct, it is 5,000,000 above the average for 1929, the year hitherto set up as the summit of good times.

All our former records of production are being shattered. It's a bigger country than ever before, and the records of the past mean little or nothing. They must all be broken again and again. It's a bigger country in every way. Our job is to make it also a better country in every way.

Hopis' Snake Dance Has Not Changed in Over Four Centuries

Rain Nearly Always Follows 16 Days of Indian Rites

Walpi, Ariz., Aug. 20.—(The Special News Service)—Four hundred years ago a bright armored band of Spanish conquistadors stood in the rectangular enclosure of a Hopi village in northern Arizona and watched brown-skinned little men dance with live rattlesnakes in their mouths, imploring the gods to shower this windswept mesa with rain.

The same annual rite will be held at Mishongvove Friday and at Walpi on August 27.

The Hopi snake dance has not changed in four centuries, nor has the everyday life of the Hopi Indian changed greatly since that first visit of the white men.

Corn always has been the main portion of the Hopi diet. It takes rain to make the corn grow—hence the annual supplication for rain.

Modern civilization has introduced iron bedsteads, canned groceries, velvet to make bright colored robes and rattly pick up trucks. But the life of the Hopi still is bound up in his religious ceremonies that continue throughout the year.

Most of Ritual Secret

Most of the snake dance ritual is secret and takes place in the kiva—an underground chamber.

But on the final day the dancers appear publicly on the ceremonial grounds.

Actual solicitation of the gods lasts 16 days.

The first job of the snake dance ceremony is to gather the snakes.

When the snakes are gathered, they are taken to the underground kiva. Immediately preceding the dance they are moved to a green cottonwood enclosure on the ceremonial grounds.

On the 16th day, just before sundown, the priests of the Antelope Society appear and take their position by the snakes.

Then four or five tribal maidens, in deer skin ceremonial costumes, take a position on one side of the dancing space. They hold bowls filled with cornmeal.

The crowd opens and the snake dancers run into the enclosure. Their eyes shine black and bright. Each wears a breech cloth under an embroidered kilt that is held in place by a ceremonial sash. Some dance barefooted, but usually they wear moccasins.

The Antelope priests start up the chant that is to accompany the dance.

The dance begins. Each carrier puts a snake in his mouth. A favorite grip is about eight inches from the head with the tail and body dangling and squirming down in front.

Beside each carrier dances a retriever. The retriever holds two feathers in his right hand, chop stick fashion. He rests his left hand on the carrier's shoulder. As they dance together the retriever entertains the snake by stroking its neck and head with the feathers. This seems to keep it from striking. If the snake should clutch at the carrier's cheek or neck, the retriever jerks the snake's head away.

Each snake must be danced completely around the circle.

As each snake is carried past the girls, they sprinkle cornmeal on the reptile's head.

When all the snakes have been danced with a circle is made with cornmeal.

Then the dancers gather the snakes and return them to the haunts from which they came, unharmed.

It is then supposed that the snakes carry to the gods the supplication of the corn farmers.

And before another sun sets, it nearly always rains.

Officials Shown How the Navy Trains Its Sailors

Great Lakes, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP) The navy showed midwestern officials today how three thousand midwestern men a month are being turned into sailors at this expanding training station.

Three governors were listed as guests and ten others sent official representatives for the Governors' Day program at the Great Lakes naval training station, the largest of its kind.

On hand to welcome them with 19-gun salute were Secretary of Navy Frank Knox, Rear Admiral John Downes, some seven thousand enlisted seamen and Maureen O'Sullivan of the movies.

From the 13 states whose officials were invited here, the Great Lakes station draws its recruits and gives them a six-week course in the fundamentals of manning ships. Also to be in school on the Chicago campus of spect was the midshipmen's Northwestern University.

1,076 Graduates

Ready to pass in review was the class of 1,076 recruits to be graduated Saturday. Most of them will be sent nearer to salt water for further training in advanced schools.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Aug. 19.—The president's handyman, New York Supreme Court Justice Rosenman, has been rummaging around through the OPM, working up a reorganization plan, and is about ready with something.

Authoritatively recommended to head a new policy-making branch of the defense regime is William L. Batt, president of the big ball bearing company, SKF Industries, who has been in charge of several production lines in OPM, but has been doing more than that job. Batt knows the problem thoroughly and enjoys the confidence of the other advance inner officials.

The advance inner notices of the Rosenman plan suggest also that William Knudsen, the nominal OPM director, would handle the production end, as at present, but under an entirely different setup.

These limited reports indicate the unwieldy and confusing existing organization is at last to be broken down into a policy branch and a production branch, but the reorganization will cut deeper than that. OPM officials who have tried to draw charts of the existing organization have wound up with something approximating the finger-pointing smears of children in kindergarten. One OPM authority has said a chart made by a woman research expert for a business magazine is better than any they have produced. In short, the duplication, intertwining, overlapping of authority has been just about as bad as could be.

In recent weeks, the situation has grown steadily worse, while all involved are awaiting the efficiency report of Roosevelt's chosen investigator.

Chairman Marriner Eccles of Federal Reserve contrived a short cut for his current move to get in and break up installment buying and "easy-godfather plans." (The economic godfather of the new deal British economist John Maynard Keynes, told everyone here inflation could not even be restrained unless the purchase of goods was slowed down in this way.)

Eccles, and no doubt the White House also, figured there would be trouble from congress if congressional approval were sought. The subject was left out of the price bill. Instead, Eccles dug out an obsolete amendment in the banking act of 1933, giving his board power to control credit. It was written for the depression, and forgotten since.

Some of the congressmen are murmuring against this "subterfuge." House banking chairman Steagall is protesting the amendment was not intended for the purpose to which the board is going to put it. But nothing will be done. Unquestionably the administration could get congressional authority if it wanted to take the time.

A more important question is whether congressional stalling on the price bill, and the administration's long delay in moving against installment buying, will not make the remedial measures too late.

Roosevelt's return from his hide-away sea conference stimulated a new flurry of rumors that he might throw an expeditionary force into Dakar or Casablanca—but you will have to go a long way inside this government to find anyone who thinks the idea is good.

The local French governor at Dakar has repeatedly informed our consul there that any occupation move will be resisted to the utmost, whether it come from the Free French, British or Americans. The Free French General De Gaulle assumed there would be little resistance, and thereby made one of the major mistakes of the war. He is clearly the one to try it again—if anyone does.

But if there is to be resistance, the operation would require a considerable portion of the British and American Atlantic fleets, including transports, and more army divisions than are now prepared for action in the whole U. S.

No Germans are in Dakar. A few Nazi members of the armistice commission and several Nazi business men, trying to drum up Arab trade, are in Casablanca, next good port on the northwest African coast. So far, General Westgard has stood firmly against allowing Nazi military forces in these spots, French Morocco and Tunisia. Petain has made no move to implement his promise of empire "bases" to the nazis. Dakar is isolated, would be even more difficult for the nazis to occupy, against resistance, because they have no fleet.

Much official sentiment seems to favor leaving Dakar alone.

Inclusion of an army and a navy officer in the "war plans" division at the Roosevelt-Churchill meeting is not to be taken literally, according to official explanations. These "war plans" divisions not only make plans for war, but plans for occupation of island bases and Iceland. They were

Justice Roberts, Rear Admiral Byrd Plead for Liberty

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts told the people of the United States last night that their common aim must be to defeat the dictatorships and Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd asserted the destiny of the nation would be decided by what the people did in the next eight months.

Both spoke at Madison Square Garden at a rally sponsored by the Council for Democracy.

Justice Roberts called upon Americans to create "a world union of self-governing peoples to guarantee and enforce peace on earth."

Rear Admiral Byrd, on leave from the navy and making his first public address on war issues, asked for "a spontaneous reawakening of all the people, determined on unity, sweat and sacrifice, exactly as if we were fighting a shooting war."

He declared the destiny of the nation would be decided within the next eight months and declared that "either we become the citadel of liberty or we destroy the last hope of liberty."

"We must adjust our concept of freedom to the realities of 1941. This means that the people of America will have to subject themselves to voluntary self-restraint in the exercise of their cherished rights x x x."

Allocations for U. S. Defense Reach Forty-Four Billion

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Allocations for the defense program topped the $44,000,000 mark today and legislators expected a forthcoming request for more lend-lease funds to send the overall total to about $50,000,000,000.

House appropriations committee statistics showed that congress already had appropriated $37,260,260,220 since July 1, 1940, for the army, navy and related programs, in addition to the original $7,000,000,000 lease-lend outlay for aid to Britain.

Included in the total was a supplemental defense bill carrying $6,586,896,918, mostly for the army, which congress approved last week. This measure now awaits President Roosevelt's signature.

Here is a general breakdown of how the huge sums will be spent—in many cases over a period of years:

War department — $24,805,321,323 for an army of 1,500,000, a force of 36,000 planes, tanks, ammunition, new headquarters and supplies.

Navy department — $9,421,487,616, for more ships for the two-ocean navy, 10,000 planes, bases encircling the United States, new shore stations, equipment and ammunition.

Other agencies — $3,033,451,053 for all other defense activities such as the Maritime Commission's program of building and acquiring hundreds of new additional cargo ships.

FUEL TAIL ALLOTTED

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Illinois municipalities were allotted $1,079,524 as fuel tax collections. Finance Director George R. McKibbin announced today.

The gross allotment was $1,162,565, from which $83,041 was deducted for interest and relief bond issue.

called in connection with those secondary duties apparently.

In any event, all the army's constantly maintained war plans are still far short of the wherewithal to carry them out.

'Destroyer Force' of U. S. Army Gets 1st Demonstration

Camp Polk, La., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The army's antidote for modern blitz warfare got its first real test in Third Army maneuvers and was found by officers to be highly capable of dealing blow to enemy armored tank spearheads.

The new weapon is a destroyer force, or DF, as the army already has dubbed it, focusing devastating shell fire on enemy tanks before they can start a front line smash.

Three highly maneuverable motorized "DF" groups have been ordered organized by the war department for the inter-army games in Louisiana next month, but the Third Army's Fifth Corps commander, Major General Edmund L. Daley unveiled a destroyer group for preliminary test.

Thirty-seven and 75 M. M. cannons, augmented by small infantry, engineer, air and armored scouter detachments, plus a signal unit, blasted enemy tanks covering for an intended power thrust.

Under this withering fire from close range, advancing tanks were ruled blown apart and their crews, groining in heavy smokecreens, annihilated in 50 calibre machine gun barrages.

Top ranking general staff officers, including Lieut. General Lesley McNair, army chief of staff, and foreign observers saw the first full dress showing of DF in action resulting in hypothetical destruction of nearly half the enemy's tank strength.

CADDIES' TOURNAMENT

The first-day results in the caddies' tournament at the Country club show the following matches: Gene Hawker, low scorer in the qualifying rounds, defeated Jack Vaile yesterday. Leo Whitman eliminated Bill Frankie; Ray Joyn beat Mark Smith; Don Bowers defeated Herbie Sykes; John Todor defeated David Moore. Bob McBride, Dan Vaile and John Van Nuys have drawn byes in the first round. Play will be resumed tomorrow morning.

PIGEON RACE

Racing pigeons belonging to Ben Schildberg placed fourth in the Chelona Racing Pigeon club's race from Cedar Rapids Sunday. Due to bad weather winning speeds could not be determined until late Monday. Charles Reese of Rock Falls was claimed the winner of both first and second prizes.

TRI-COUNTY LEAGUE

The only game played in the Tri-County Baseball league Sunday was the Esmond-Malta contest. Esmond went to Malta and played in between showers only to lose, 9 to 7. The Esmond team was lacking two pitchers, Englekes and Gustafson. Harris did the pitching and turned out a neat performance. The score was 5 to 2 until the eighth inning when Malta got four runs and Esmond five. The Rams were forfeited to Leaf River and the Ashton-Creston game was rained out.

FRIDAY NIGHT SOFTBALL GAME

The newly-chosen All-Star softball team will play the Mendota Chatterbox team here at the Airport Friday night instead of the United Cigars team. The All-Stars will play all of the out of town teams for the rest of the season. This game will be the fans' first chance to see the managers' selected team in action.

FEATURE FOURSOME

That Plum Hollow-Country club match Sunday has a feature match which should attract a large gallery. Em Rorer and Bill Witzleb will team up together for Plum Hollow and play Ken Detweiler and George Joyce. All are really members of the Country club, but Bill and Em each belong to "P. H." too. In the early season match between the two clubs Bill played for the "C. C."

FLYING AVENGER ON THE WING

The "Flying Avenger" is on the loose again and whipped in this morning to tell us (so we'd tell you) that Floyd Smith four-putted the No. 3 green last night in his tourney match with Joe Miller. The Tsk-tsk boys claim they are avenged for all early season jabs now and you should see the teeth marks on Smith's putter. He blasted his second shot on the green on the long 455-yard hole after he had reached the carpet in fine style.

TENNIS TOURNEY ENTRY

Bob Preston is the latest to make entry in the Dixon singles tennis tournament which will be played this week end with finals on Sunday afternoon. George Covert reports that about a dozen players are expected to participate and drawings will be made tonight at 5.30 at a meeting at the high school courts.

TO INDIANAPOLIS

Pro Ralph Stonehouse left yesterday afternoon for Indianapolis, his home town, and expects to return to Dixon by tomorrow morning.

TOURNAMENT RESULTS

Six matches have been reported played in the current club championship tournament at the Dixon Country Club. In matches last night Floyd Smith defeated Joe Miller, 4 and 3; Emerson Rorer defeated J. Fred Hofmann, 5 and 4; Ray Wilbur defeated O. W. Funkhouser, 3 up; Jim Dominetta defeated Dr. Berry, 6 and 4. Other results have included: Don Raymond's victory over Carl Plovman, L. G. Ward and Billows Meet for Third Time in Finals of Great Lakes Golf

By EARL HILLIGAN

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The rubber match of one of amateur golf's liveliest two-some battles went on in the Great Lakes Amateur golf championship today — with the principals both looking ahead to next week's national amateur test at Omaha.

The two stars involved—Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., and Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—met in the Great Lakes event at Knollwood for the third time in their brilliant fairway careers. With each holding one decision, they were hard for victory today.

Two years ago, at Chicago's North Shore club, Ward won the national amateur by downing Billows in the finals, 7 and 5. Last year, at Winged Foot, Billows whipped Ward 4 and 3 in the quarter finals.

Both Ward and Billows were impressive yesterday in double victories. Ward had to go 19 holes to down Frank Kovack of Chicago, 1 up, then routed Johnny Lehman, Chicago veteran, 5 and 4. Billows overcame F. R. Bove now Chicago, 7 and 6, then took a 5 and 4 win from Earl Stewart of Dallas, Tex., national inter-collegiate champion.

Also Eligible

Wilford Wehrle and John Barnum of Chicago, and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, also eligible for the Omaha classic, all qualified for the quarter final test. Wehrle, a

That long softball league season which began on the night of June 5 when the Reynolds wire boys defeated the Three Deuces, 7 to 6, has come to an end and the winners of that night have now won 11 of 13 games to capture the league championship. Although there are several softball games still to be played at the Airport this season, the league wound up its business last night.

In the first game the United Cigars whipped Freemans 15 to 5 and the nightcap saw the Reynolds champions nosing out Bordens, 6 to 5. A few rained out and postponed games have been cancelled.

With the end of the season last night, the managers of all the league clubs put their noggin's together to pick an all-star team which will continue play for the rest of the season. Members of that team are as follows:

Heavy hitters included Holland, Williams and Coakley with doubles and Deets with a triple for the winners. Burke doubled for the shooem.

Bus Carlson scored the winning run with two out in the last of the seventh when the Reynolds champs broke a 5-to-5 deadlock with Bordens in the nightcap game.

The champions were badly out-hit by the milkmen when the latter team got 10 clouts to four by the wiremen. One run scored for Reynolds in the first inning when Woodbridge was safe on a fielder's choice and scored on Windmiller's single. Four runs scored in the third on singles by Carlson and Windmiller, two walks and two errors.

Bordens scored three runs in the first innings when Haas and Don Bush doubled, Keating tripled and Jensen got a single. The milkmen picked up another run in the fourth with Jensen and Whitebread singled and there was one error and one walk. The other run tagged in the fifth when R. Bush was safe on a fielder's choice and scored on a single by Brother Don.

Fordham was the winning pitcher. He allowed 10 hits, walked one and struck out four. Jensen was on the mound for the losers and allowed four hits, walked four and struck out four.

Working on the theory that you can't keep a good team down—not forever, at least—the Polo Garment softball team began a climb out of the cellar of the Polo Softball league last night by whipping Naylons, 18 to 9 in the nightcap game. In the first game the Brookville team kept its second round record clean with a 14 to 12 victory over Peats.

The Peats team register two two home runs out of the 10 hits when Riggs and Reed bounced the apple all over the lot, but 10 errors spelled doom. Brookville got 13 hits off the pitching of C. Bowers who also walked five and struck out two.

Winning pitcher was Hess who allowed 10 hits, walked eight and struck out one.

In the nightcap game the Garment boys made eight hits good for 18 runs. It all happened when Pitcher Unger of the Naylons gave off 13 walks. In the run department Shank of the losers wrote his name with a second inning round trip.

Winning pitcher was Livingston who allowed 13 hits, walked three and struck out one.

JOE LOUIS AND WIFE KISS AND MAKE UP; ROUND ENDS

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Joe Louis-Marva Trotter divorce court battle is off.

With a little help from Cupid, the heavyweight boxing champion and his wife were reunited yesterday in the midst of an alimony hearing in her divorce suit.

"They love each other, that's all," was the explanation of the sudden reconciliation offered by one of Joe's managers.

Mrs. Louis agreed to drop her divorce action, alleging cruelty, after a 45-minute conference with her husband. They publicly sealed the bargain with a hug and a kiss, then left for home.

They were married Sept. 24, 1935, and she sued last July 2. Louis denied the cruelty allegation. Louis planned to begin training within the next few days for his title defense against Lou Nova in New York Sept. 19.

'Business as Usual' Is Prospect For Big Ten Football This Year

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Business as usual, bigger and better.

That sums up prospects for the 1941 football season in the western conference, one of the nation's major athletic groups. The draft has made no serious inroads in player strength, and reports indicate the "Big Ten" is headed for a bumper year in so far as attendance is concerned.

John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics for the conference, says the circuit intends to intensify its general athletic program during the period of the emergency as a contribution to national physical preparedness.

A relatively few among prospective members of football squads have been called, primarily because the average of conference football men is under the limit of 21 years, Griffith says. "There has been no suggestion that the one-year residence or freshman rule be modified or dropped. Neither have there been suggestions for retrenchment or curtailment. Football schedules are unchanged and ticket prices in general are the same as last year. Pre-season ticket sales indicate interest."

Pessimistic Reports

As regards the draft, the most pessimistic report comes from Iowa. Northwestern, too, may feel the effects.

The Hawkeyes, coached by Dr. Ed Anderson, have lost one good varsity player, Burdell Gillett, a halfback, and also may lose Jack Kennedy, most promising of its sophomore backs; George Frye, reserve center, and Steve Mizen, end.

Northwestern, always a title threat, likely will get by the gridiron season, but before the year ends may lose Bill De Corveant, star football and baseball player; Ike Kepford, halfback, and George Benson, fullback.

The only casualty thus far at Michigan is Jack Butler, reserve tackle who has joined the Army Air Corps.

Minnesota's Golden Gophers, who swept to the Big Ten and national honors with an undefeated 1940 season, will escape any serious blow from the draft. Ralph Lundeen, reserve end from Minneapolis, is the only player drafted to date.

Hoosiers May Lose Passer

Indiana may lose a good passer, Jimmy McGuire, who has indicated he'll not return because he'll be called to the colors. Purdue has lost none of its regulars, but Co-Captain Tom Melton, guard, has a low number. Other Boilermakers who may be lost before the end of the season include John Petty, fullback; Herman Timmerman, tackle; Joe Hillenbrand, guard; Hal Schumacher, fullback; and Alex Leudo, center.

Melton, Petty and Timmerman are expected to be mainstays of the team.

Ohio State has lost two promising players in William Bell, center, and Emil Molze, sophomore tackle. Both were drafted.

Wisconsin has lost only one player, Claude York, who is slated for halfback duty. He enlisted in the navy's flying forces.

Notre Dame, which will oppose several conference schools and is perennially a threat for national honors, has lost one player—Steve Bagamus, a halfback, who already is in uniform.

Minneapolis met Mrs. Calvert Shorb of South Bend, Ind.

Other lower bracket matches paired two Long Beach, Calif., women, Mrs. Frank Newell and Peggy Rutledge, Ann Casey of Mason City, Ia., opposed Mrs. Lawrence Selz of Chicago.

Among those eliminated yesterday were Mrs. H. M. Sims of St. Paul, Minn., defeated 4 and 3 by Miss Wall; Margaret Barry of St. Paul, Minn., who lost 3 and 2 to Mrs. Uhllein; Betty Brown of Texarkana, Ark., who bowed to Mary Wilder, 5 and 4; Ruth Seeger of St. Paul, 4 and 2 loser to Miss Kietly, and Mrs. William Jelliffe of Denver, Colo., who lost to Mrs. Shorb, 2 up.

Miss Cline defeated Jane Goodwill of St. Paul, 2 and 1, and Miss Casey reached the second round with a 3 and 2 victory over Margaret Russell of Detroit, Mich.

WHITE SOX HAVE FINEST PITCHING STAFF IN MAJORS

Chicagoans Win Double Shutout Over A's Yesterday

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The finest pitching staff in the major leagues this year belongs to the Chicago White Sox.

This has been no secret, but the feat of Lefty Thornton Lee and Big Johnny Humphries in pitching a double shutout yesterday against the Philadelphia Athletics served to switch the spotlight in the direction of the Sox.

Obscured by such developments as the fancy pennant fight in the National League, and the collapse of the Cleveland Indians, the White Sox nevertheless have won eight straight games and 17 of their past 20 in spurring from fifth place to second in the American League since August 2.

This was accomplished almost entirely on superb pitching. The Sox still are the weakest-hitting outfit and the next-to-the-worst fielding club in the circuit. They haven't hit a homer in their past 14 contests and have smacked only 38 all season.

But their pitchers have hurled nine shutouts and 22 one-hit tilts and in 83 instances the starting pitcher went the full distance.

Lee Gets 16th Victory

Lee, recognized as the outstanding lefthander of the year, achieved his 16th victory by holding the Athletics to six singles. He let only one man reach second and hit a double himself to drive home Chicago's first run in a 4 to 0 victory.

Humphries, a 26-year-old right-hander acquired from Cleveland last winter in exchange for Clint Brown, allowed only four hits. It was his third starting assignment and his second straight shutout.

John Babich opposed him with a five-hit job, but walked four batters, one intentionally, to force across the only run of the game in the third inning.

This lifted the Sox to 16 games behind the New York Yankees, who divided a doubleheader at Detroit and lost their star, Joe DiMaggio, for perhaps a week with a strained ankle.

The Tigers broke loose for eight runs in the second inning of the opener and won, 12-3, with Lefty Hal Newhouse pitching five-hit ball. Charley Keller hit his 30th homer while Charley Gehring led Detroit's 16-hit attack with a homer and a double good for four runs.

Yanks Win Nightcap
New York banded back with a 16-hit bombardment to take the night-cap 8-3. DiMaggio hurt his left ankle tagging second base after hitting a double in the fourth inning. He had not missed an inning till then.

The injury tended to push him out of the American League hitting competition as lanky Ted Williams came up with three home runs during a doubleheader between the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Browns. Williams' big day, which included a couple of singles, boosted his batting average to .410, gave him a total of 26 round-trippers, one behind DiMaggio, and a total of 89 runs batted in, third highest in his league.

Split Twin Bill

In spite of Williams' show, the best Boston could do was split the twin bill. The Browns took the opener, 3-2, as Dennis Galehouse held his former teammates to six hits, one less than Jack Wilson gave up to St. Louis. John Berardino hit a homer and then singled home the winning run for St. Louis in the ninth. Boston won the night-cap 10-7, with a 19-hit offensive.

Washington whipped Cleveland's stumbling Indians again, 8-6, on Jimmy Bloodworth's two-run homer in the 12th inning, making Cleveland's current record 13 losses in 14 decisions.

Brooklyn barged two full games in front of the National League by battering the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9-0, and 6-2, in a doubleheader while the rest of the league was kept idle by rain in the east.
